Music Adventures Teacher Training Institute, Summer 2009

Friday, June 26, 6–9 pm and Saturday/Sunday, June 27–28, 10 am–5 pm

Developed for classroom teachers, childcare professionals, and parents, the Music Adventures Teacher Training Institute provides attendees with the essential tools to incorporate music and movement activities into an existing curriculum, or to create a new program. Whether you seek to enhance an existing childcare curriculum, or simply to bring creative musical activities into your child's extra-curricular routine, the Institute offers a wealth of time-tested methods for inspiring a lifelong love of music in preschool children. The weekend teacher training program is based on the Conservatory's nationally recognized program, Music Adventures, and will be led by the Director of the Music Adventures program. Participants need not have any musical literacy skills or proficiency on an instrument.

Age level: Adults Instructors: Ric Frank & Alexandra Vasallo

Tuition: $350

How to Register:

Register in person at the Conservatory or by phone: 718-622-3300 x 10. All major credit cards accepted, as well as cash, check, or money order for in-person registrations. Full payment is due at the time of registration.

“As a former President of the American Orff-Schulwerk Association, I can say that the Institute and the program reflect a serious commitment to music education for the young child as an exciting and challenging experience...”

—Lillian Yaross, former president of the American Orff-Schulwerk Association
